As secretary of the populist county central committee, will Colonel Ellingham name a precinct in which his reports show a populist gain over the vote of last year.

The Era plaintively urges the populists to pull off their coats and go to work to roll up a big majority for their candidates. But they won't do it Colonel; you and your fellow bolsters have deceived them once too often.

The Era virtually gives Jake Miller the credit of capturing the Brady Island train robbers. We suppose next week it will give Mr. Buchanan the credit of paying precinct bonds and county indebtedness out of his own pocket.

Will Mr. Buchanan please state whether he believes Miss Hosford guilty of trickery and deception? He knows she is not, but does he have the courage to come out and deny the charge made by his mouthpiece, the Era.

JAKE MILLER says the sheriff's office is the poorest paying one of lot, and talks as though he did not care to be re-elected. Jacob sees in the distance the coming republican cyclone, and is trying to convince himself that he would rather be a farmer than a populist sheriff.

Will Colonel Ellingham please give the names of those "leading republicans" who admit the election of the major portion of the populist ticket? He need not plead "betrayal of confidence," for "leading republicans" will not object to having their names published.

The populist candidates for reelection are distributing silver dollars with the expectation of getting votes in return. In the campaign of two years ago, the populists would have regarded this as a heinous crime; now anything that will gain a vote is resorted to without hesitancy.

Did Mr. Buchanan as a republican county clerk obey the laws of Nebraska? Is Mr. Buchanan more upright and honest now than he was four years ago? If all republicans are rascals, as the Era says, was Mr. Buchanan a rascal four years ago, or was he then, as now, the only truly honest man in Lincoln county?

We are reliably informed that Elder Leonard offered to provide Rev. Franklin with a ministerial charge, but the latter refused to accept the same—not until after election at least. Souls hungering for spiritual manna must wait until Rev. Franklin gets through campaigning. Politics first; religion afterwards.

POPULIST candidates base their hope of election on republicans slashing the ticket. They admit that on a straight party vote the republicans have a majority in the county. But republicans do not intend splitting their ticket. They realize that this year is only a skirmish of the battle next year, and they propose to present a solid front.

For four years the populists have had control of county affairs by reason of having two county commissioners. Have they during that time lowered the taxes or decreased the floating indebtedness of the county? Not much. The tax levy is up to the limit and claims against the general fund are nearly a year old before they are allowed. Upon what does the Era base its claim of populist economy? Wherein is the county better off than it was a half dozen years ago? Four years is sufficient long for the populist or any other party to make a good record, but the reformers have not reformed.

ACCORDING to Judge Neville's mouthpiece, the McCormick Harvesting Machine Co. has sent an agent from Chicago to work against Neville. That's a very likely story. What influence would a Chicago agent have with farmers, and what does McCormick Machine Company care about the election of a district judge on the Nebraska frontier? Neville's mouth-piece is evidently getting short of ammunition.

THE attack of the Era upon Miss Hosford will only make her votes. The people of Lincoln county are too well acquainted with the high standing of Miss Hosford to believe that she would in any way countenance or practice trickery or deception. The attack, however, can only be taken as evidence of the desperate straits to which the cut-throat leaders of the populist party are driven.

When the campaign opened the populist leaders openly admitted that they did not hope to elect any of their candidates but Miller and Buchanan. Now they have dropped out Buchanan and are attempting to trade everybody for Miller. The other candidates are beginning to get their eyes open to this fact and are making it very warm for the fellows who are attempting to do the trading.

THERE is some glee among populists over the assertion that "that stalwart republican, Dr. Longley, is working for the populist ticket." We will give any man a dollar who will prove that Dr. Longley was ever a "stalwart republican" or that he voted a straight ticket except when he was a candidate. Dr. Longley has been a mugwump during the fourteen years that this writer has been a resident of Lincoln county.

The republican party took Butler Buchanan from a cheap clerkship in a grocery store and nominated and elected him county clerk at a better salary than he ever before received. To almost any one possessing the proper manliness, this act would have been regarded as a great favor, but not so with Mr. Buchanan. Instead of showing his appreciation of the kindness shown him by the party—and while still serving as county clerk—he deserted the republican party and became a populist. And why? Was it because he became convinced that the principles advocated by the republican party were wrong? Hardly. It was just at that time the populist tidal wave came rolling over western Nebraska, and Mr. Buchanan believing that the republican party could not re-elect him to office, joined the populist organization, was nominated for clerk and received that defeat which he merited. Had he left the republican party because he did not longer believe in its principles, we would not say a word, but when he deserted his party simply to get a nomination from a party which he sincerely believed was numerically stronger, we can with justice call him a Benedict Arnold. And now, after betraying the party which gave him a financial start in the world, he has the nerve to pose as a saint among sinners and solicit support from the members of the party to which he proved traitor. Do the republicans of Lincoln county favor rewarding this Benedict Arnold? We think not.

It is not necessary for this paper to make any extended reply to the Era's questions relative to ex-county treasurer John H. Clark. The general public is fully aware of the fact that the intent of the law in regard to interest money on certain funds is questioned by the best lawyers of the state, and that nearly all of the county treasurers in the state are pursuing the same course as did Mr. Clark. The populist commissioners of this county, acting upon the advice of a populist county attorney, instituted proceedings against Mr. Clark to recover the interest money which they claimed he should have covered into the several funds. Mr. Clark acting upon more competent legal advice, refused to comply with the demand of the commissioners, and the suit is now pending in the district court. Should the case be decided adversely to Mr. Clark he stands ready to pay into the proper funds the amount due. With Mr. Clark it is simply a matter of law. In bringing this case into court the populist commissioners have done so purely for the purpose of making political capital, and not as a business move. If Mr. Buchanan has covered the interest he received into the several funds—as he claims—he has done so with the knowledge that if the case against John H. Clark is decided in Mr. Clark's favor, Mr. Buchanan can recover the money from the funds into which he paid it. Mr. Buchanan's action in turning in the interest money is also largely for political effect, as is proven by the notorious publicity he has given the matter.

LINCOLN county last fall gave R. D. Harris, republican candidate for representative, a majority of 142. This will be the average majority of the candidates on the republican ticket this fall.

THE Washington Post is trying to make democratic congressmen say whether they will favor "a third term" or not. Thus far thirteen say they "see no objection to a third term," and seventy-five say "no, never." The jig is up. There will be no nomination for Mr. Cleveland.

A VOTE for republicanism is a vote for the protection of American labor, a vote for the upbuilding of American institutions, a vote for the advancement of the American farmer, a vote for a basis of money that will withstand the storms of time, and a vote for the government of the people by the people and for the people.—Ex.

THERE is no good lawyer in this Thirteenth Judicial District that does not recognize in Hon. H. M. Grimes one of the best qualified men in the district for the position of district judge. He has always been a hard worker, and wherever located has soon gained a position at the head of the bar. He is upright, thoroughly honest and capable, and is especially equipped for a judicial position.—Sidney Telegraph.

THE republicans in state convention pledged the party to support legislation in the interest of irrigation. No other political party in this state has thought it necessary to say a word in favor of reclaiming the arid and semi-arid lands of the state. No other political party has through its representatives in the legislature placed upon record a law that has amounted to anything in advancing irrigation interests. The first general law upon the subject was enacted by a republican legislature and the pops sat supinely through the next two sessions without accomplishing anything of note. When the republicans again came into power, they enacted two laws of great value upon the subject and the courts have upheld thus far in every decision the spirit and purpose of those laws. Now the party places itself squarely on record to continue the good work. The Nebraska farmer whose hopes and prospects are based upon irrigation development will consult his own best interests by supporting the party that declares for legislation that will advance his interests.—Cozad Tribune.

An effort is being made in Japan, backed up by certain newspapers, to persuade the emperor to visit Europe and America with a large suite, including a military staff. The emperor has never been outside of Japan, and there are those among his subjects who feel that a little globe-trotting on his part would be of advantage to his country and himself.

BISHOPS MAKE CONCESSIONS.

Episcopal Deputies Adopt Article One of the Revision.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 21.—At the session of the house of deputies of the Episcopal convention today the resignation of Rev. Dr. W. R. Huntington of New York from the constitutional revision committee was accepted and Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, also of New York, was elected in his stead. The committee on new dioceses reported that there were some constitutional questions involved in the request of the missionary jurisdiction on northern Texas to be erected into a diocese and recommended that the matter be referred to the proper committee. This may prevent action being taken until the next convention. The committee reported favorably on the appropriation for the erection of the missionary of Asheville, out of the western part of the present diocese of North Carolina. Dean Hoffman reported that the house of bishops had decided from their choice of the word "synod" instead of convention and had agreed to give up the "primate" nomenclature. With these concessions, the house adopted article I of the revision, and that much is settled without further consideration by the revision committee. A long list of memorials to deceased members were read and devotional exercises were held.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION WORK.

Reports of the Purity Department Read and Discussed.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Stevenson, the vice-president of the W. C. T. U., opened the convention this morning in the absence of Miss Willard. After devotional exercises Dr. Mary Wood Allen, superintendent of the purity department, read her report. She was followed by Mrs. Mary D. Martin, national superintendent, who reported on "Purity in Literature and Art."

Mrs. Naomi D. Tomlinson of Pennsylvania, national superintendent, then read a paper on parlor meetings.

Henry Frederick Smith Returns.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Professor Henry Frederick Smith, formerly professor of Arabic at Lane Theological seminary in Cincinnati, arrived on La Champagne.

Dr. Smith, who was accompanied by his wife and two children, has been in Egypt several months studying the dead languages. He was three years ago convicted of heresy by the Ohio Presbytery and appealed his case to the general synod. This was prior to the trial for heresy of Rev. Dr. Briggs of Union seminary.

BOUNDARY LINE QUESTION.

Great Britain's Latest Grab, They Say, Brings to the United States—Brilliant Mining Outlook Along the Yukon River.

SEATTLE, Oct. 21.—The citizens of Alaska are greatly exercised over the boundary line question, and propose to take steps in the matter without delay. They do not want to see what they term the richest portion of the United States annexed to British Columbia, and they will fight before they see it taken possession of.

The paramount reason of renewed activity in the boundary line question is the brilliant outlook of the mining properties along the Yukon and in the vicinity of Juneau. Prospectors are arriving in Juneau almost hourly with news of rich finds, and good feeling runs riot. Everyone is happy, and unite in saying that Alaska is the richest place on the face of the globe, and for this reason they desire to arouse sentiment on the boundary line question.

It is not uncommon to hear the expression, "Give us 10 leagues or we will fight." They argue that England knows full well the vast richness of the country, and will leave no stone unturned to accomplish her desires.

The Venezuelan Row.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—In view of the many reports in circulation regarding the attitude of Great Britain toward Venezuela, the following official announcement was made today:

In consequence of Venezuela not offering an apology or reparation for the Uran incident, the Marquis of Salisbury has taken steps to inform her as to what reparation Great Britain requires. But, as relations between the two countries have been broken off for some years, the communication was not sent through the direct diplomatic channel. As the document has not reached its destination, it is not considered desirable to give the details of its contents. But it is couched in forcible terms and points out that Great Britain will not permit Venezuela to overstep the boundaries made by the courses of the rivers of Guyana and Amacura, but is willing that the question of the other disputed territory should be submitted to arbitration.

London Press Comment.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela, which has resulted in the sending of an ultimatum to the South American republic is much commented upon by the London press today. The Westminster Gazette this afternoon says: "Great Britain and the United States are not going to be set by the ears by a pack of Venezuelans. President Cleveland knows we have no intention of land grabbing in South America, and that Monroe has no better friend than the old country. In due time Secretary Olney will, no doubt, tell the Venezuelans that they cannot expect the United States to espouse a quarrel when they deliberately presume, on their limited resources, to attempt to bluff a great power." The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The Marquis of Salisbury will find it convenient to keep a lithographed supply of a special form of ultimatum for South American republics. They are perpetually making trouble, and the mongrel Spanish pincello will not yield to anything short of a threatened blockade. There is no doubt that the republic has grabbed a big chunk beyond the Schomburgk line. We have no wish to bulldoze Venezuela, but we say 'off hands' all the same."

Decline in the Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Cotton contracts opened irregular; near months declined 29 to 33 points and distant months 23 to 27 points. At 11 o'clock the market was busy at 29 points. At noon prices showed 29 to 33 points net decline. Sales to noon, 275,000 bales. Wild selling took place at the opening and prices broke sharply on a decline at the Liverpool market equal to 33 points here.

Bank Runs on Its Depositors.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 21.—The First National bank of Payallup made a run on its depositors, probably the first time such a thing was ever done in the history of banking, and all were paid. The action was taken because an attempt was made to make the bank pay $4,500 owed to the present Erie county treasurer before paying other depositors.

Held Up by Women Thieves.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—R. N. Carpenter of Muscatine, Ia., who is stopping at the Palmer house, had a hard struggle with three of the most notorious women thieves of Chicago, on State street, near the hotel last night. The women robbed him of $40, but he managed to hold all three of them until a policeman came and arrested them.

Fatal Duel With Razors.

DENVER, Oct. 21.—Charles Rose is dead and James Girard is dying at Watkins, 21 miles east of Denver, as a result of a duel with razors. Both men were employed as section hands on the Union Pacific railroad. There had been a feud of long standing between them, the exact cause of which is not known.

DEUPREY UNABLE TO APPEAR.

Durrant's Principal Defender Is Still a Very Sick Man.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Eugene Deuprey, the principal defender of Theodore Durrant, will not appear in court today when the trial is resumed. He is still a very sick man, and although his physician reports that the attorney is on the road to recovery, it is very doubtful if he will be strong enough to leave his bed during the coming week, let alone appear in court. The symptoms of paralysis, which were so manifest when Mr. Deuprey was first taken ill, have not left him, notwithstanding the skillful treatment and careful nursing he has received.

It is understood that in the event that Mr. Deuprey is not sufficiently strong to come to court when all of the evidence is in, District Attorney Barnes will consent to a continuance until such time as Durrant's lawyer should be able to present his argument to the jury.

"I am drawing instructions in the case," said General Dickinson, "and that is all I am doing. Yes, I think the case for the defense may close in one day, certainly in two. Of course I cannot as yet tell what there will be in the result, but I do not believe there will be a great deal. The field has been pretty well winnowed, you know, and there cannot be much more to come."

Durrant's lawyer still clings to the theory that the story told by Mrs. Caroline Leak is not a genuine one; that it is manufactured testimony, and Dr. Gibson is responsible for its production. The defense includes Mrs. M. L. Henry with Mrs. Leak and Dr. Gibson in this alleged conspiracy. Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Leak have been subpoenaed, and when put on the stand will be questioned on the subject.

DEFEAT REGARDED AS A VICTORY.

Don Dickinson Fails to Get the Nomination For Mayor of Detroit.

DETROIT, Oct. 21.—Don M. Dickinson was defeated for the nomination for mayor of Detroit in the Democratic convention today, but the defeat was in reality a victory. The nominee is Alderman Sam Goldwater, a labor candidate, who received 51 votes to 34 for Dickinson on the first ballot. The division, which has existed throughout Michigan between the reform, or administration Democrats, and the anti-reformers, had in Detroit assumed the more personal nature of Dickinson vs. Daniel Campen, ex-state chairman. In today's convention the anti-administration men tried to force the nomination of Dickinson for the very purpose, it is alleged, of having him "thrown down" by running him up against the Pingree boom, which has attained a tremendous velocity in the present campaign. The federal office holders and other Dickinson men today fought this effort with ultimate success after a hard struggle. The convention was further racked with an attempt by some leaders to have Pingree endorsed, but this did not succeed.

GROVER WILL BE THERE.

Presidential Train One of the Finest Ever Run Out of Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Arrangements have been completed for the trip of the president and his cabinet to Atlanta to attend the exposition. The presidential train will leave at 11 p. m., and will be in charge of First Vice President Baldwin and Mr. W. A. Turk, passenger agent of the Northern railway, who will accompany the party to Atlanta and return. Attorney General Harmon hopes to arrange his business so as to enable him to accompany the president. Mrs. Smith, wife of the secretary, is now in Atlanta and will join the party on their arrival. The train will be one of the best ever run out of Washington.

STRIKE OF KANSAS MINERS.

Three Hundred Quit Work at the North Leavenworth Shaft.

LEAVENWORTH, Oct. 21.—The 300 miners employed at the North Leavenworth coal shaft quit work this morning and visited the Home Riverside mines for the purpose of inducing the men employed there to quit. The North Leavenworth company is paying 80 cents per ton for mine run coal, and the Home company 70. The walkout is to force the Home Riverside company to pay 80 cents. A mass meeting of the miners will be held tonight, and a general strike seems almost certain, as the Home Riverside people are not disposed to accede to the demands made.

AFTER THE LEHIGH MURDERER.

Officers Track Him to Marshalltown and Lose All Trace of Him.

DES MOINES, Oct. 21.—Sheriff Wolsey of Webster county was in the city yesterday in pursuit of Rees Smith, who murdered his wife and another colored woman at Lehigh. County Attorney Kenyon says he came up to Smith at Jewell Junction, and in trying to capture him seventeen shots were fired, none taking effect. Smith boarded a Northwestern train pulling out of the station, but was put off, and escaped in the dark. He was next seen in Ames and then at Marshalltown, from which place it was thought he came here.
